About

Teacher/ Veteran turned Web Dev Professional. Life-long learner. Always striving to be Humble, Hungry, and Smart. I am focused on software development and working with database systems. I have a broad range of professional experiences that give me a unique perspective when solving and analyzing problems. I work well in a team and can adapt to new challenges.

I am currently attending Nashville Software School's Web Development Bootcamp. I am developing my programming skills and feel that I can learn new processes quickly. I find that success comes through relationships that encourage collaboration, communication, and results.
